COMPANYBACKGROUND

Date Founded: 1993

Key Personnel: Mark Giovanniello

Principal Consultant—USCG Licensed Captain

COMPANYDESCRIPTION

Giovanniello, Integrator is uniquely qualified to perform Control System Security vulnerability assessments, design recommendations and implementation services.

An expert in the field of control systems and infrastructure security, Mark Giovanniello has chaired the New England Water Works Association's Security and Emergency Preparedness Committee, and has participated with authorities in protecting our country's water supplies, marine transportation and chemical plants.

On-site Field Engineering, Technical and Consulting Services for all Industrial Control systems. Based on your needs, we offer quick service response time along with extensive instrumentation control and communication system applications experience.

We can train your staff and provide economical solutions to reduce nuisance problems and repeat service calls. Our field engineering capabilities can provide recommendations on control systems hardware, software and mechanical equipment. We can also perform energy audits and modify control systems with advanced control algorithms that can optimize performance and/or energy conservation.
